

AAUW in Action!

How AAUW has made a difference in OUR community

Last year, AAUW gave a Campus Action Grant to the CSUN's Women's Research and Resource Center to raise awareness about the impact the gender pay gap has on female students one year after graduation. CSUN Students spent the better part of a semester learning about and exploring the gender pay gap and then created installations to display around campus.

Shira Brown, Director of the WRRC, wrote the grant proposal to obtain the grant. She will present what it took to get the grant and what a difference it made in the lives of the students who learned about the pay gap. Students will be there to give a first-hand account of their experience as well.

So much of what AAUW does takes place in Sacramento or in Washington. This is an unprecedented opportunity to learn about the impact that AAUW programs and money have in our own backyard!

Please join us for this informative meeting—the first of our program year!
