

SURVIVORS OF THE INVISIBLE WAR

Many of you no doubt have heard about the award winning documentary, The Invisible War, which recounts through first person testimonies the prevalence of sexual assaults in the U.S. military. Our speaker this month is Callie Wight, MA and RN, who is the Women Veterans Program Manager for the Greater Los Angeles Healthcare System and who has become a medical responder for the survivors of military sexual trauma. Her specialty is trauma counseling with women veterans, especially those who have experienced military sexual trauma as well as those who have served in combat zones. She has made a difference in the lives of our veterans by implementing a wide array of general health care services, mental health counseling for a variety of conditions, and specialty programs such as vocational rehabilitation and career counseling.

Callie has many heartwarming experiences to share based on her 20+ year career with the Department of Veterans Affairs. We hope you will join us to learn firsthand about the care being given to the survivors of The Invisible War.
