

ENDING WELL

A Gift to Your Loved Ones

In 2020, Martha Clark and Janet Logan started Ending Well, a five-week workshop on how to prepare for one's end of life. For our October meeting, they will provide an overview of the workshops with time for questions. The workshop typically covers required paperwork, information about your digital estate, wishes for your funeral or celebration of life gathering, and creating a findable file containing everything needed to settle your affairs and distribute your belongings. It touches on personal aspects of your legacy, an ethical will, and ways to leave a loving document to bless each of your close loved ones - your values alongside your valuables.

This presentation will serve two purposes: an introduction to the interactive five workshop series, and it will also provide relevant and useful information needed to address your "Ending Well". We hope you will join us, either in-person or on Zoom.

Saturday, October 18, 2025
